Episode four asks and answers the question: What would Thomas Edison think about podcasts? Enjoy a visit to Edison and Ford Winter Estates with Mike Cosden, executive vice president of the 20-acre estate located along the scenic Caloosahatchee River. Cosden tells us how Edison's passion for this Southwest Florida city made it a destination for snowbirds and visitors worldwide.

The Weather Channel

On Oct. 1, the destination was featured in a morning broadcast segment with travel expert Laura Begley Bloom that provided helpful information during this time of social distancing: “One of my favorite places is Fort Myers and Sanibel, Florida. The Beaches of Fort Myers & Sanibel are made up of hundreds of barrier and coastal islands where you find 50 miles of white sand beaches. The destination also offers a lot of quaint local cottages that are really great for social distancing. They also have islands with an unusual ordinance called no buildings higher than a palm tree which means you’ll get big open skies and amazing views of the Gulf. Also, almost three quarters of Sanibel is preserved for migrating birds, nesting turtles, and other wildlife, so that means a lot of room for visitors to social distance.” youtube.com/watch?v=xDY6CFZvyJI

The arts

Art In Flight at Southwest Florida International Airport (RSW)

For the last 15 years, the Alliance for the Arts, a nonprofit visual and performing arts center in the heart of Fort Myers, and the Lee County Port Authority have partnered on Art In Flight, which brings art to the public spaces and the millions of travelers at Southwest Florida International Airport.

The current exhibit, Pop of Color, features a diverse collection of 29 artworks that use line, shape, texture and color to amaze the senses. With a varied collection of styles and media, artists on display demonstrate the wide possibilities of abstract art from clean and crisp edges to wild and energetic strokes of paint. Various materials and their textures are explored as well with everything from found objects to sculptural, low relief mixed media. Pop of Color will exhibit now through May 2021. artinlee.org/experience/exhibits/art-in-flight

Alliance ArtsPark, Fort Myers

Alliance for the Arts ArtsPark offers a community hub for discovery and creativity, education and a place where people, art and imagination meet. The project connects neighbors with a new sidewalk, regenerates the land with a beautiful thriving pocket of Florida flowers and at the center of it all, stands a recently installed towering piece of public art, the Caloosahatchee Water Wall, by internationally acclaimed artist Michael Singer.

A depiction of the Caloosahatchee River, the 25-foot sculpture illuminates blooming native vines that climb the Water Wall's textured, gray lattice. With the Caloosahatchee River just  $\frac{1}{4}$  mile away, it's only fitting that art and nature harmoniously coincide. As an outdoor classroom, the Alliance ArtsPark and Water Wall are free and open to the public to explore. The project champions the course of Florida's unique, ecological memoir while celebrating the warmth and energy of the local neighborhood.
